

Varieties available for those taking the clump option

Please note: work-trade participants will be making their selections on the day of their attendance, so our available stock will be changing as November goes on. Most of these varieties have quite a few plants available, but some may all have been harvested if you have a shift later in the season.

You can view photos and descriptions of each of these varieties on our website at www.sunsetviewfarmdahlias.com/shop, or you can see them on our photographic field map on the next page.
